

Fire Warden Training

Overview

This one day course is aimed at employees with a designated fire safety role in the workplace under the Regulatory Reform (Fire Safety) Order 2005. It equips the delegates with the necessary knowledge and skills to adequately undertake their roles and responsibilities as Fire Wardens / Marshals. Delegates gain practical experience of undertaking the fire warden checks (day-to-day duties) and the actions to be taken during an evacuation. In addition delegates get hands on experiences of operating portable fire extinguishers to attack small fires.

Who should attend

This course is aimed at existing employees to help them identify and reduce the risks from fire in the workplace.

Give employees the knowledge into the proactive measures of a Fire Warden / Marshal in order to assess potential issues in the workplace. The material is suitable for delegates with no experience in Fire Safety.

After this course you will...

- Understand how fires start and spread
- Know their duties under fire safety legislation
- Understand their roles as a fire warden
- Ability to recognise workplace fire hazards
- Gain awareness of human behaviour in fire and how to encourage evacuation
- Ability to identify fire classes and their correct extinguishing media
